Making Music

Judy Wallace Puts Poetry to Music

By Kenneth J. Souza

It would only seem natural that Mattapoisett's resident blues talent and Library Director Judy Wallace might one day collaborate with a renowned poet like Michael Mulvihill. In fact, this happy marriage of Ms. Wallace's two great passions — words and music — has resulted in Cape Blues, a vibrant collection of 13 tracks which marks her welcomed follow-up to 2001's Bringin' It Back Again.

The latest CD from the Judy Wallace Group, produced by husband David Gries and recorded in their Mattapoisett home studio, didn't begin life as a Wallace-Mulvihill project, per se, but Ms. Wallace said it eventually evolved into a "putting poetry to music" effort.

"Actually the concept started when we visited (Mr. Mulvihill) for Thanksgiving (in 2003)," Ms. Wallace said. "He originally showed me some lyrics he had written ... (and) when I was down there (again) last Thanksgiving, I asked him for the lyrics."

Having previously written her own lyrics to accompany her music and arrangements, Ms. Wallace wasn't sure how the collaboration would work. But being a fan of Mr. Mulvihill's writing, she was eager to find out.

"I read one of his poems at my wedding and really liked it," she said. "He's gotten letters of praise from some serious poets (and) he read at the second Clinton Inauguration. Michael is recognized in the world of poets, but not on a national level."

Ms. Wallace began writing music and arrangements for the lyrics Mr. Mulvihill provided and the two spent the better part of a year collaborating, sending e-

Ms. Wallace just releases a new CD titled Cape Blues which will be available for purchase at the venue, with a portion of the proceeds to benefit the Mattapoisett Public Library.

The YMCA received a total of $1,510 in donations from the community and purchased calling cards totaling 22,950 minutes of phone time for the men and women serving our country overseas. Send your guess to us at: Wanderer Cover Contest, P.O. Box 102, Mattapoisett, MA 02739. We'll draw a winner from all the correct answers received by January 28, 2005 and give that person a special Wanderer Groundhog's Day Gift. Good Luck!

mails back and forth with suggestions and revisions. What began as an idea for a couple of Wallace-Mulvihill compositions turned into a full 13-song collection.

"It's the first time he's had anybody put his lyrics to music (and) he's pretty excited about it," Ms. Wallace said. "Originally we hadn't planned on doing a whole album of his songs, but it just fell into place."

Indeed, the melding of Mr. Mulvihill's poetic lyrics and Ms. Wallace's driving sense of old-style blues make Cape Blues an even stronger session than Bringin' It Back Again, which Ms. Wallace confessed was done during a period after her successful cancer treatment when she "wanted to record everything she'd ever written." As such, Cape Blues is more of a focused, thematic work, with songs that both contrast and complement each other well.

"There's a lot of ocean and water imagery in these songs," Ms. Wallace said, pointing out the scenic cover photograph taken by her husband at Westport's Horseneck Beach. "Everyone seems to respond to the (cover) photo on this CD. I'm very happy with it."

Oddly enough, despite hailing from Virginia, it was Mr. Mulvihill's suggestion to title the album Cape Blues, because he wanted people to identify with Ms. Wallace's home turf. She likes the more generic use of "Cape Blues" as opposed to "Cape Cod Blues" so people anywhere can readily identify with it.

Standout tracks on the CD include "Red Rooster Blues," "Lost in the Water," "Rita Mae," and, my personal favorite, "Devil Blues," which is in the finest tradition of Bonnie Raitt's electric-guitar blues. Throughout the album, Wallace's voice is strong and her guitar and harp work are impeccable. Having dabbled with other musical styles on her previous CD, it's refreshing to hear her find her voice this time out, both literally and figuratively. Without a doubt, Cape Blues proves Ms. Wallace's forte is deep-down, heartfelt blues.

"My strongest stuff is my blues ... everybody seems to love it," Ms. Wallace agreed. "That's probably because I started playing harmonica. (Mr. Mulvihill) was always lobbying to keep more acoustic (guitar) with the harmonica. But in the end he's really, really pleased with it."

Judy Wallace will be performing with her husband David Gries during "Library Night" at the Kinsale Inn in Mattapoissett on Monday, January 10 from 5:30 to 8:30 pm. Copies of the new Cape Blues CD will be on sale at the venue, with a portion of the proceeds to benefit the Mattapoissett Public Library, and they plan to perform a couple of selections from the recording live.

"We'll be doing a lot of swing stuff, too ... but certainly we'll pepper the set with a couple of new numbers," she said.

Tickets for the Library Night Buffet at the Kinsale Inn are $25 each and can be purchased at the Mattapoissett Public Library or at the door. They will also be raffling off a model of the bark Wanderer that evening. For more information on this benefit, please call 508-758-4171.

The Judy Wallace Group will also be performing at the Pink Power Inaugural Ball on Saturday, January 22 from 7:00 to 11:00 pm at the VFW Hall, George Ryder Road in Chatham, MA. For tickets or more information, please call 508-432-4245.

Selectmen was called to order by Chairman Raymond H. Andrews at 7:00 pm on Tuesday, January 4, 2005. Also present were Selectman Stephen J. Lombard, Selectman Jordan C. Collyer, and Town Administrator Michael J. Botelho.

After signing the necessary bills and vouchers for the week, the board approved the minutes of the December 21, 2004 meeting and the Executive Session minutes of December 21, 2004. The board next met with the members of the Planning Board to appoint new member Laura McLean. With their enthusiastic approval, the board voted to appoint Ms. McLean of 16 Foster Street as the new Planning Board member.

Resident N. Douglas Schneider appeared in objection to the board's motion to approve the new Conservation Commission (ConCom) service fees. He had not been allowed access to the fees until that morning, and he wished to discuss them further with both the board and the ConCom before they were approved. In light of this, the board voted to table the motion until a meeting could be arranged with the board and the ConCom at which Mr. Schneider would be welcomed to attend.

The board then voted to accept with regret the resignation of Clayton L. Hagy as a member of the Mattapoisett Library Board of Trustees. A letter of appreciation will be sent to Mr. Hagy thanking him for his past service to the town.

At this time, the board once again signed and approved an entertainment license for Sweet Memories, d/b/a The Nest Diner, 81 Fairhaven Road.

Concerned citizens William and Judith McMorro of 10 Silvershell Road then discussed the terrible and unsafe conditions of their road and other roads left by the contractor who installed the sewer line in the Point Connett area. They have six inches of mud and water problems on their property as a result of the type of fill used and the lack of compacting on the project. Their efforts to have the contractor repair the problems have not been successful.

The board explained that they have no jurisdiction over the contractors, but as Safety Commissioners for the town they will have a letter sent to Water/Sewer Superintendent William T. Nicholson, the Board of Water

From the desk of Edward J. Haggerty Sr., CSA

For the first time in history, retirees are more concerned about living too long than they are about dying too soon. Retirees continue to ask:

- Do I have enough assets to last as long as I do?
- Are they in the right place?
- Which assets do I use first?

Will you outlive your savings? Or will you have Income for Life?

Do you need to know how to make the most of your assets in retirement?

Understand why the investment and tax strategies used to distribute wealth are inherently different than those used to accumulate wealth. There is a model that will help you enjoy the retirement you have worked so hard to achieve.

Armed with the knowledge of what ROI means to you during the three phases of wealth.

- Accumulation: Focus is on Return on Investment
- Distribution: Focus is on Reliability of Income
- Transfer: Focus is on Return of Investment

Here at Integrated Solutions, and working exclusively with people over age 55, we understand the importance of the Distribution Phase and The Transfer Phase. How important is it to you that you have a retirement plan that is designed to:

- Measure the impact of inflation during your retirement years;
- Develop a strategy to minimize your tax liability;
- Recommend a portfolio designed to provide the highest reliability of income;
- Make sure that your assets will transfer to your heirs efficiently?

and Sewer Commissioners, Fire Chief Ronald Scott, Police Chief Mary Lyons, and Town Counsel since the road has become a safety hazard for rescue vehicles.

Town Administrator Michael Botelho presented the board with a plan to reconstitute the Mattapoisett Housing Partnership board in order to facilitate a quorum at their meetings. After a discussion about terms of appointments, the board voted 2-1 to approve the plan with Selectman Collyer in sole opposition until more information could be obtained.

At press time, the Board of Selectmen met with Attorney William Solomon, who recently served as negotiator between the towns of Mattapoisett and Marion and the Comcast Cable company, to discuss the newly-approved 10-year license agreement with the cable provider. In addition to providing funding and support for the so-called Public, Education and Government (PEG) Access TV Studio at ORR High School, the new agreement also provides a first-ever senior discount for Mattapoisett subscribers. Seniors who meet financial requirements will have six months to apply for discounts of either $2 off standard cable or 10 percent off the basic cable rate.

In other matters, the board noted:

- Their next regular Selectmen's Meeting will be on Tuesday, January 18 at 7:00 pm at Town Hall.
- The next Elementary School Building Committee will be on Monday, February 10 at 4:30 pm in the Center School Conference Room.
- Mattapoisett Bike Path Meetings will be held February 17, 2005 and March 24, 2005 at 7:30 pm at the Mattapoisett Town Hall.
- The Mattapoisett Highway Department will be picking up Christmas trees beginning the week of January 10, 2005. Trees need to be at the curb, cut end facing out.

men was called to order on Tuesday, January 4, 2005 at 6:30 pm by Chairman David Pierce. Also present were Selectman Andrew Jeffrey, Selectman Jonathan Henry, Town Administrator John F. Dolan Jr., and Secretary Helene Craver.

The board first discussed whether Town Administrator John Dolan needs to attend all meetings of the various town committees and subcommittees, given that he is the liaison between the Board of Selectmen and said bodies. Selectman Jeffrey felt it wasn't necessary for Mr. Dolan to attend every meeting, but he was expected to remain "up-to-speed" on the progress of each group to provide them with updates.

"I guess what I want to know is: is it your desire as a board that I attend all committee and subcommittee meetings?" Mr. Dolan asked. "My sense is I can be up-to-speed without attending every meeting."

"There are a number of committees that meet on a regular basis, or standing committees," Chairman Pierce said. "Then there are working committees which need a point person from the Board of Selectmen. There are a number of things coming along such as the Wind Power Study Committee which I'm happy to take on. They're going to need to make reports to us at some point."

"Committees that are working on large-scale capital projects, it's important that I stay on top of," Mr. Dolan agreed. "The others are largely on an as-needed basis."

"To be candid I think some committees in the past have been very focused and it never got to a point of discussion here," Selectman Jeffrey said.

"I'd like to have a better feel for the operational feedback on (these committees)," Selectman Henry said.

"I like the idea of updating (committee progress) while we have the public here at (Selectmen's) meetings," Chairman Pierce said.

After a moment of silence for the recent tsunami victims in Thailand and Asia, Selectman Jeffrey introduced Attorney William Solomon, who was the negotiator between both Marion and Mattapoisett and Comcast Cable in the recent contract renewal process. At last month's Tri-Town Selectmen's meeting, the board voted to enter into a 10-year agreement with Comcast Cable and Mr. Solomon was present to finalize the action.

"I can proudly say it's an excellent license for the towns of Marion, Mattapoisett and Rochester," Mr. Solomon said. "We have here four original (copies) of the license. Not including Rochester, the value of this license is over $2 million over 10 years. Together with Rochester, the operational value will approach $200,000 annually."

Mr. Solomon noted this money will be used to fund and operate the so-called Public, Education and Government (PEG) Access Studio to be housed at ORR High School.

"You no longer have the corner store where you get your information (so) access TV serves that purpose," Mr. Solomon said. "I look forward to the day when access will help you with communication to your residents."

In addition to funding the PEG Access operation at ORR, Mr. Solomon proudly noted that Marion cable subscribers will be given a first-time senior citizen discount.

"The town will, for the first time, have a senior discount for residents aged 65 and older," Mr. Solomon said. "There's two possibilities: a $2 discount off standard cable, or a 10 percent discount off basic. I think the (Marion) Cable Advisory Committee will give you an opinion on (those options)."

With that, the board unanimously voted to sign and execute the contract which was negotiated between Marion and Comcast Cable.

Under incoming correspondence, the board received:

- Letter from Emergency Medical Services (EMS) Director Jeff Habicht, along with proposed changes in the Marion EMS Rules and Regulations. The board plans to vote on approving these changes during their January 18, 2005 meeting.

- Notice from the Massachusetts Department of Revenue (DOR) that the town's tax rate has been approved at $7.97 per $1,000 valuation for Fiscal Year 2005.

- Letter of resignation from C. Clark Streeter, MD, who is stepping down from the Council on Aging (COA) Board of Directors due to his planned move. The board voted to accept his resignation and agreed to send Dr.

Rabbit Diet

My pet rabbit is getting fat. I feed her pellets and occasional lettuce.

An all pellet diet is not healthy for rabbits. It promotes obesity, overgrown teeth, diarrhea, and the formation of hairballs in the stomach.

What should I feed my rabbit?

Pet rabbits need high amounts of fiber. This is best supplied by a diet of timothy hay and other grass hays. Avoid alfalfa as it has too much calcium and protein. The rabbit should be fed as much of this hay as she wants.

What about lettuce?

Romaine and other leaf lettuces are OK but iceberg lettuce has no nutritional value. Try feeding your rabbit other green vegetables but introduce them gradually. Give the rabbit a small piece of a vegetable such as broccoli. You can double the amount given on each subsequent day. This allows the bacteria in the rabbits intestine to acclimate to the new food. Overfeeding a new food can cause diarrhea and even death.

Are there other foods to avoid?

Avoid starchy foods such as oats, cheerios, potatoes, and most other foods that we like. Stick with hay, vegetable that are slowly introduced and some pellets.

Streeter a letter of appreciation for his many past contributions to the town.

- Memo from Harbormaster Charles Bradley to Finance Committee (FinCom) Chairman Priscilla Ditchfield regarding the need to replace the starboard engine on his patrol boat. Although a new patrol boat is expected soon, Mr. Bradley felt it beneficial to replace the motor for an estimated $2,000 in labor so as to maintain its resale value.

- Letter from George Rogers, New Bedford City Councilor, advising that during a recent visit to friends in Marion, he noticed the sign for "Heritage Road" was missing and should be replaced. Although the actual street name is "Hermitage Road," according to Selectman Henry, the board agreed to take the matter under advisement and forward the letter to DPW Superintendent Rob Zora.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Dolan discussed two Requests for Proposals (RFPs) he drafted for the Water Tower Engineering project's professional engineering services and for Town Counsel services, both of which the board unanimously voted to approve.

Chairman Pierce next brought up the status of the Fireworks Study Committee relative to their earlier discussion of committee appointments.

"I have had some discussions with the sole, standing (fireworks) committee member," Selectman Henry said. "I really think we need to work with her to get a more highly developed expectation of what the future will hold with regard to the fireworks (celebration). I think we owe it to her to come to some kind of understanding as to how this will play out."

"I don't think (that's what) we're looking at right now," Selectman Jeffrey said. "I think a separate committee should be formed to look at the feasibility of doing this: to look at the safety issues, the costs, etc. Then if it was found to be feasible, another committee could move forward."

"But we have a standing committee, even if it's a committee of one, that hasn't been disbanded," Selectman Henry said.

"When I heard you say it's a committee of one, that may have proven the need to disband it," Mr. Dolan said. "This has been in the newspaper a number of times, it's been a board discussion a number of times, and in all that time we've only received two letters: one in favor and one against (continuing town-sponsored fireworks). My suggestion would be the board vote to disband the (existing) committee ... and move on."

"Until other people come before us, there's really no committee," Selectman Jeffrey agreed.

"I think you've placed this issue in the public arena and if someone out there wants to pick this up, they can," Mr. Dolan said.

With that, the board unanimously voted to disband the standing Silvershell Beach Fireworks Com-

Chairman Pierce also discussed the planned formation of a Wind Power Study Committee for Marion, following Mattapoisett's lead. "I have been attending the meetings in Mattapoisett," Chairman Pierce said. "I've had some people come forward expressing interest." He added a meeting is slated for Wednesday, January 12 at 7:00 pm in the Marion Town House for anyone interested in joining the Wind Power Study Committee or for anyone interested in the issue.

There being no further matters to come before the board, they unanimously voted to adjourn for the evening at 8:00 pm.

Town Administrator James Huntoon, and Administrative Assistant Veronica Lafreniere.

The board first met briefly with Susan Peterson, their representative to the Southeast Regional Planning and Economic Development District (SRPEDD), to discuss a couple of concerns. First, Ms. Peterson wanted to know if the town would be interested in assistance from SRPEDD relative to the ongoing and controversial use of baseball fields after reading recent press reports on the issue.

"(I read) the number of kids using the baseball field went from 200 to 270 kids in one year," she said. "Maybe it would be worthwhile if we could get SRPEDD to work with the (Park Commission) to do a long-term plan for all the parks in town and how they can be allocated ... just to have a plan in place. Right now it seems we're being reactive instead of (proactive)."

Chairman Laboa suggested Ms. Peterson meet with the Park Commission to discuss this issue, since they are responsible for the scheduling and usage of town parks.

"The other is a personal gripe of mine: the post office," Ms. Peterson said. "It's so poorly designed ... (and) I know it's privately owned with a lease from the federal government, but (SRPEDD) has been working with local post offices in the area (to redesign) parking areas. We've had some fender-benders in the parking lot. Maybe we can just suggest a more rationale way to use that space. We've got 20 hours of service allocated from SRPEDD, let's use it."

Selectman Nunes suggested another possible use of SRPEDD resources would be to assist the town in updating its Master Plan, which is due for revision.

"There are a couple of sorting methods SRPEDD can use," Ms. Peterson said. "From a mapping perspective, we can sort the information in a number of ways. But you have to tell them what you want. Some (members) of the Industrial Development Commission (IDC) went out and collected the information themselves (last time)."

Ms. Peterson said she would bring these suggestions up at the next SRPEDD meeting.

The board next approved the minutes of the December 20, 2004 meeting, and then approved payment of an invoice from Town Counsels Perry, Hicks, Crotty and Deshaies, LLP, in the amount of $6,056.16 for legal services rendered.

Under the Town Administrator's report, Mr. Huntoon noted there was a meeting slated for this Friday at ORR High School with regard to the agreement between Marion and Mattapoisett and Comcast Cable to set up the so-called PEG (Public, Education, Government) Access Studio at ORR High School. Mr. Huntoon talked to Attorney William Solomon, the negotiator between Marion, Mattapoisett and Comcast in setting up the PEG Access Studio at ORR, and he is sending a letter to the Rochester Board of Selectmen with pertinent details so the town can look into joining the new tri-town entity.

"He thinks there's a real win situation for Rochester, because the other two towns are carrying the ball on this," Mr. Huntoon said.

Mr. Huntoon also received a letter from ORR School Superintendent Dr. William Cooper regarding funding for the transportation of students to Bristol County Agricultural High School. In the letter, Dr. Cooper states "the arrangements now in place for Rochester residents attending Bristol Aggie in 2004-05 will be continued, therefore, in 2005-06," but it's not clear where the funding will come from.

"They say it's going to stay as-is, but I don't see where they're agreeing to fund it," Chairman Laboa said, adding that the ORR School District contributed $5,000 this year toward these costs. "We need to make that clear, and it's certainly not clear (in this letter)."

Lastly, Mr. Huntoon said Ms. Lafreniere has been working to update the town's website (www.townofrochester.com) which now contains a complete set of the town's by-laws. "People are using the website, we've been getting e-mails from there," Mr. Huntoon said.

Under correspondence, the board received a letter of resignation from Anita Bernier who is stepping down from the Council on Aging (COA) Board of Directors due to personal reasons. Anyone interested in filling the vacancy on the COA Board of Directors should send a letter of interest to the Rochester Board of Selectmen, c/o Rochester Town Hall, 1 Constitution Way, Rochester, MA 02770. There are also still vacancies on the Wind Power Study Committee, the Tri-Town Housing Co-Op, the Industrial Development Commission (IDC), and the Master Plan Committee.

Resident Richard W. Carr also sent a letter to the board voicing his concerns over the boat ramp access at Mary's Pond, which has been forwarded to the Conservation Commission (ConCom) since it relates to their January 4 public hearing.

Mr. Carr objects to the building of a boat ramp as proposed at the site since it will ruin "the beautiful view of Mary's Pond" and create "a considerable traffic haz-

"I don't think the state's going to change their mind, they're pretty fixed on where they want (the ramp)," Mr. Huntoon said. "But maybe some accommodation can be made."

In other matters, the board:

- Noted the next Tri-Town Selectmen's meeting will be held on Thursday, January 20 at 6:00 pm in the Marion Town House.
- Discussed whether it would be worth sending a letter out to all residents seeking volunteers for various boards and committees, since participation seems to be waning. Selectman Nunes asked how much a bulk mailing to all residents would cost and Mr. Huntoon said

• Yu-Gi-Oh Club: The Wareham Recreation Department held its first Yu-Gi-Oh Club Tournament on Thursday, December 16. There was an unbelievable turnout of over 30 children for this new Wareham Recreation event. Participants had been attending six weeks of club play prior to the tournament. Players "dueled" for a few hours, ate pizza, traded cards, and received trophies and ribbons for winning their duals and participating in the event. The first place trophy was awarded to Cody Gove.

The Wareham Yu-Gi-Oh Club meets on Thursday evenings in the Multi-Service Center from 6:30 to 8:00 pm. Admission is $1 per child and all fees collected are used to fund future tournaments. For more information, please contact Wareham Recreation at 508-291-3100, extension 3159.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor:

I would like to thank the brave group of swimmers who faced the icy waters at (the Mattapoisett) Town Beach on Christmas morning to help raise money for a good cause.

Christina Johns, Jeanne Adams, Jillian Callahan, Erik Dyson, George Shaw, Brendan Goss, Hunt Browning, Sheldon and Adam Daly, Mark Sanford (all of Mattapoisett) and Yvonne Hartsman of Wareham all plunged right in and helped to raise almost $200 to help families in Mattapoisett who are dealing with cancer.

The money raised was deposited into the Community Cancer Care Fund established and administered by Debbie Days of Mattapoisett. Families who may be feeling financial constraints due to dealing with cancer may receive assistance by contacting Debbie directly at 508-758-6299.

While the swimmers may not have stayed long in the water, the feeling of goodwill and camaraderie will last much longer.

Thank you to all who participated and we're looking forward to seeing you all again next Christmas!

Sincerely,

Now and Then Everybody, Wash Your Hands! By Virginia Morgan

When we were children, we were repeatedly told by our parents, "wash your hands."

Now

Now, we are constantly being told to "wash your hands" by the media, including special articles in magazines, newspapers, and health news on television that this is the best way to help by warding off colds and the flu. With the earlier shortage of flu shots, doctors warned that this was the best way to help ourselves.

Now in schools, on the walls in rest rooms, there are posters stressing the importance of "washing the hands." The Center for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, reports that handwashing is the most important thing you do to keep from getting sick. According to a survey, a third of parents with school-aged children stuff liquid hand sanitizers and wipes into their kid's backpacks. "Healthy schools, healthy people," is the phrase used by an organization called SNAP, a hands-on initiative for middle schools that is designed to help keep students in school by improving overall health through promoting clean hands.

The CDC and the Soap and Detergent Association have teamed up to create a hygiene-education program for middle schools. Visit www.itsasnap.org for more information.

Then

This emphasis on handwashing is not new. In the 1986 Mattapoisett Town Report, a pamphlet was found in the Board of Health Department advertising National Infection Week on October 19-25, 1986 with the emphasis on handwashing, complete with cartoons depicting the chain reaction on how infections are spread. "Break the chain by removing one of the links" was its slogan. The single most effective way to "break the link" is by handwashing.

I'll tell you just one more time: "wash your hands."

The first time is a hint; the second time, a suggestion; the third time is nagging. All the data seems to prove this action does help.

Cans for Bands

Cans for bands will be back in action in Mattapoisett, so bring all those holiday cans to Old Hammondtown School beginning this Saturday, January 8 between the hours of 9:00 am and 10:00 am. Sippican Seniors

The next monthly meeting of the Sippican Seniors will be held on Friday January 14, 2005 at the Marion VFW Hall, Route 6 in Marion, beginning at 1:30 pm. Entertainment will be a "Card Party" (Geronimo) and refreshments will be served. The hall is handicap accessible. The February meeting will be the group's annual Penny Sale!

Charity Quiz Night

A weekly event at the Kinsale Inn in Mattapoisett will offer area residents the opportunity to test their knowledge, have fun, and help a charity. Called "Pub Quiz Night," this Tuesday evening event finds teams from one to five people trying to come up with the most correct written responses to the test questions. There is a $10 entry fee per team and all of the entry fees are donated to charity. Each week the winning team selects the charity and that team also receives a $50 gift certificate to the Kinsale Inn.

Get a group of friends together and meet at the Kinsale Inn on Tuesdays at 7:30 pm for "Pub Quiz Night." The mental challenge, camaraderie, and charitable focus make this an event where everyone wins! For more information, please call 508-758-4922.

Rochester Cultural Council

The Rochester Cultural Council is excited to announce plans for its first annual Autumn Art Exhibit, a two-day show featuring the work of local professionals, hobbyists, and art students. The mixed media exhibit will be open to the public on Saturday and Sunday, October 8 and 9, 2005. An opening reception for artists and their guests will take place on Friday evening, October 7.

The council invites all local artists to share their work at an event designed to promote the arts in our community. There will be a juried show for students and artists and the opportunity for artists to sell their two- or three-dimensional pieces, including work in fabric. The council is also seeking volunteers and artisans who are interested in helping to coordinate this event.

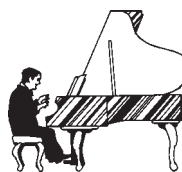

The Rochester Cultural Council's next meeting will be Wednesday evening, January 12, 2005 at 7:00 pm in the Rochester Memorial School Library. Anyone may attend. For additional information, you may contact Phoebe Butler, Cultural Council Chairman, at 508-763-8499 (e-mail WylBil@aol.com), Jay Ryan, Council Membership at 508-993-0631 (e-mail Jaypaints@aol.com). The Rochester Cultural Council is under the auspices of the Massachusetts Cultural Council and promotes excellence and diversity in the arts within the local community.

MOVIE REVIEW

Howard's End

By Rob Gonsalves
<http://robsreviews.cjb.net>

The Aviator. Starring Leonardo DiCaprio and Cate Blanchett. Directed by Martin Scorsese. Running time: 169 minutes. MPAA rating: PG-13.

Some directors are drawn to obsessive heroes who sink everything into their dreams or goals; the heroes are usually onscreen surrogates for the directors. Steven Spielberg had Schindler's List, Francis Coppola had Tucker: The Man and His Dream, Michael Cimino hungered for years to make a movie version of The Fountainhead. Martin Scorsese's The Aviator fits snugly into this category. Scorsese, perhaps cinema's greatest living obsessive-compulsive director now that Stanley Kubrick is dead, is a natural match for Howard Hughes, the billionaire crackpot and/or visionary (depending on your view). Hughes lived every filmmaker's dream, pouring unprecedented thousands of his own cash into the flying epic Hell's Angels, escorting ladies like Ava Gardner and Katharine Hepburn to premieres, and focusing relentlessly on his fantasy — to build the best airplanes ever — even when everyone else thinks he's nuts.

Leonardo DiCaprio seems to have become for Scorsese what Tom Hanks has become for Spielberg — a go-to guy for dependable charisma (DiCaprio is signed on for Scorsese's next film as well). As Howard Hughes, DiCaprio is allowed to hit far more notes than he did as the sullen lead in Scorsese's Gangs of New York. His Howard is a go-getter, a man who responds to a roadblock by throwing money at it. Yet all his riches can't insulate him from his inner demons — his terror of germs, instilled in him (or so John Logan's script has it) by his mother. Gradually over the course of the movie's two hours and forty-nine minutes (which streak by until the somewhat talky finale), DiCaprio shows us the dark side of obsessiveness, the habitual hand-washing, the jars of urine lined up neatly.

This is a jittery epic, always on the move; its energy matches Howard's, and when he meets Katharine Hepburn we can see why they click so well and why they don't last together — Cate Blanchett nails Hepburn's haughty nervous energy, which we see is a cover for her insecurity around her pompously intellectual Connecticut family. (You can also understand why she eventually gave her heart to the gruff, amiable pillow Spencer Tracy, who was able to calm her down.) The movie's Howard loves to achieve, but dislikes the limelight; he'd much rather be up in the cockpit of one of his planes, breaking a speed record or cranking his own camera during the shooting of a dogfight scene in Hell's Angels. Scorsese's admiration for Hughes is palpable — here's a guy who got up in a plane and shot his own footage for the picture he was producing.

The Aviator bogs down a bit when it gets into the conflict between Hughes' TWA and the rival Pan Am, run by a pipe-puffing Alec Baldwin with devious senator Alan Alda in his pocket. Howard is crucified in the press for spending wartime money on planes that wouldn't fly, leading to a rather dry hearing in which Howard practically produces a pie chart and pointer to defend himself. The movie's populist theme is that the corrupt rich guys are trying to stomp the little guy — some little guy! Hughes was a millionaire at age eighteen, inheriting his father's oil drill company that afforded him $2 million a year. We don't really care whether Howard's name is smeared in the papers; we care more about whether he can beat down his germophobia long enough to make himself presentable. In short, his inner conflict is a lot more compelling than two guys being mean to him.

This is Scorsese's most engaged and engaging filmmaking in a while; it feels like an epic without strain. As soon as the first nightclub scene hits the screen, you know Scorsese is in an enchanted milieu — big-band music, movie stars milling about (Jude Law contributes a fun few minutes as Errol Flynn, who of course gets into a fight). The Aviator is a tribute to Hollywood and an outsider who wanted to be part of it, but whose vision was grander than Hollywood. It ends on a note of triumph, ignoring Hughes' final hermetic decades (Jonathan Demme's Melvin and Howard, in which Hughes turns up in the desert and leaves millions of dollars to a gas-station owner, would be a good follow-up to The Aviator). But Scorsese has made the movie he wanted, about the hero whose story he wanted to tell.

INNER VIEWS

Critic Collection

By Kenneth J. Souza
news@wanderer.com

I consider myself something of a serious film fanatic, but I know someone whose cinematic knowledge and sheer passion for movies easily surpasses my own. Thankfully, he's also a gifted and talented writer, a good friend, and for the better part of the last decade he's been our resident movie critic here at The Wanderer.

Now, at long last, Rob Gonsalves can also add "published author" to his growing list of credits with the release of his first volume of collected reviews: The New Golden Age: Movies 1995-1999 (628 pages, $24.95). The book is the first of three planned volumes intended to amass all of his printed reviews since he began as a fledgling film critic at Fairhaven High School.

"I started writing (movie) reviews ... when I was 16," the lifelong Fairhaven native explained, adding he was first published in The Spray, the high school newspaper. "I think my first review was David Cronenberg's The Fly in 1986."

It was later at Southeastern Massachusetts University (now UMass Dartmouth) that I first met Rob in my capacity as News Editor and then Editor-in-Chief of The Torch, for which Rob served as both regular film critic and Arts & Entertainment Editor. Naturally, when it came time to spice up the pages of The Wanderer with some colorful movie reviews, Rob was my first and only choice for the task, and his weekly contributions have garnered a great deal of praise and attention over the years.

And I should know.

Because I also write a weekly column and sometimes chime in with music or video reviews in this space, I often get mistaken for Rob when I'm out and about in the tri-town area ... but I'm only too happy to pass along the words of encouragement I receive on his behalf.

I think many of those same well-wishers and fans of Rob's unique voice and cinematic perspective will really enjoy The New Golden Age, a hefty and dense tome of 600-plus-pages boasting some 331 reviews written during a five-year period.

"I wanted to have all my reviews collected within a nice, neat volume," Mr. Gonsalves said. "I initially wanted to do a collection of all my reviews, but then it would have been over 900 pages ... so I decided to split them up."

Like similar critical collections from Pauline Kael and Roger Ebert — two of the author's admitted influences — Rob hopes The New Golden Age will better define some of the ongoing trends in movie-making and also allow people to witness the progress (for better or worse) of a given star or director.

"Sometimes (even) bad movies reflect certain trends and patterns," he said. "The book is arranged chronologically, so you can see the progression of certain people's careers. For example, there's Steve Martin (slumming) in Sgt. Bilko, but later you have him in Bowfinger and see he's back on track."

Rob said he's already begun work on the follow-up volume which will cover reviews published between 2000 and 2004. Later, he also intends to revisit and revise his earlier reviews for a third volume devoted to the 1990-1994 period.

This initial book offers the benefit of grouped headings under which the writer has collected similarly-themed movies throughout, so you can either opt to read the reviews in chronological order or skip to a specific film or theme via the table of contents.

"Pauline Kael ... had the same way of grouping films under one heading," Mr. Gonsalves explained.

Although this book and subsequent volumes aren't meant to be definitive "yearbooks" of all the feature films released during a given period, they read more like one film fan's diary of notes and observations.

"There are going to be some omissions, because you can't see everything," Mr. Gonsalves said. "If you want complete, there's always the Leonard Maltin books. But these (collections) are most of the reviews (published) since I've been writing for The Wanderer."

Having known Rob for nearly 17 years now, I knew it was only a matter of time before I saw his name emblazoned on a book cover or, better yet, glaring from a movie screen. (Frankly, I'm still holding out hope for the latter having read some of his unproduced screenplays.) But until then I'm only too happy and proud to thumb through The New Golden Age, a book that boasts equal servings of "the usual dumb cheeseburgers" and "surprise, exotic dishes," according to the author's introduction.

Either way, I know you'll find some tasty fare within.

Published by Lulu.com, The New Golden Age: Movies 1995-1999 ($24.95) can be ordered online at www.lulu.com/robsreviews. Author Rob Gonsalves is weekly film critic for The Wanderer. His movie reviews are also available online at www.robsreviews.cjb.net.

New Bedford Choral Concert

For its winter concert, the Greater New Bedford Choral Society will present the world premiere of A Requiem for the Autumn of Life by Gerald P. Dyck. Written for chorus, orchestra and soloist, this new work features Philip Lima as baritone soloist. Winter songs by Elgar, Thompson, Britten and others, plus organ and orchestral pieces will complete the program. Christopher Ricci is the organist, Gerald Dyck directs and Donna Corbert is concert mistress.

Hauntingly melodic, A Requiem for the Autumn of Life takes as its source of inspiration a Welsh poem, "The Builders," by R. Williams, about the casual destruction of a home for the elderly. While the theme, the often callous treatment of the elderly, is thought-provoking, the work ends in a spirit of inspiration and hope. Old Welsh songs woven together with Welsh hymns and interspersed with excerpts from the Latin requiem Mass give this work its profound beauty, that is at times robust, but often of great ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Events could inspire adventurous Lambs looking to make a major career or personal move. But as always, get all the facts before rushing into any sort of deal or commitment.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) What seems to be a great opportunity could cause even usually practical Taureans to ignore their inner caution cues. Best to move carefully to avoid falling into unseen traps.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Need a holiday now that the seasonal festivities are behind you? Good idea. Plan to go to someplace wonderful. You'll return refreshed and more than ready for a new challenge.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Progress continues to be made on that pesky workplace problem. Meanwhile, don't assume a personal situation will work itself out. Best to get more involved earlier than later.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Catnaps are definitely recommended for Leos and Leonas who had been going at a hectic pace over the holidays. Adding relaxation time to your schedule helps restore your overdrawn energy reserves.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Sure, some of the new friends you made over the holidays might move out of your life at some point. But at least one might show significant "staying power" with some encouragement.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Encourage family members to join you in supporting a relative who could be facing a difficult emotional challenge in the New Year. Showing your love and concern helps keep his or her hopes up.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) While a long-deferred decision might suddenly take on some urgency after news on a related matter, you still need to weigh all factors carefully before deciding one way or the other. SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) This is a good time to reassess the earlier plan you made for the New Year. Some elements you felt you could depend on to make it work might no longer carry that assurance.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Forming a renewed connection with a former associate is only the first step toward working out your new plans. Be prepared for problems and deal with them as soon as they arise.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A romantic situation that was going smoothly not too long ago might take a new turn. Be honest about your feelings before you decide whether to follow it or take another path.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The wise Pisces (that's you, of course) will make sure everyone knows you plan to keep your options open and listen to all sides of the situation before making any decisions.

BORN THIS WEEK: Your honest approach to life and living is always an inspiration for others fortunate enough to know you.

Ask Marion Family Chiropractic

I was told my child has scoliosis following a screening at school. What are the dangers of scoliosis, and what can a chiropractor do to help my child?

Scoliosis is an abnormal curvature of the spine that often develops in a child's growing years. According to the scientific journal Spine, children and adolescents with slight scoliosis have disturbances with postural equilibrium, causing a lack of normal feedback from their muscles. If a scoliosis progresses to an advanced stage, there can be pressure on internal organs such as the lungs and heart, impairing their function. It is widely agreed that chiropractors are well-equipped to work with children with scoliosis. Last fall, researchers reported in Musculoskeletal Disorders that the "use of spinal manipulation appeared to significantly reduce the severity of [scoliosis] in all subjects." Chiropractic care is a conservative, non-invasive option for parents who are concerned about a child's scoliosis.

Do you have a question for the doctors at Marion Family Chiropractic? Email it to us at frontdesk@marionchiropractic.com, and it may appear in a future edition of the Wanderer.

Festival of Lights

Grace Episcopal Church cordially invites everyone in the greater New Bedford community to join them for their annual "Festival of Lights" service to celebrate the Christian season of Epiphany. The beautiful candle-lit service of pageantry and choral music will be held at 4:00 pm on Sunday, January 9, 2005 in the main sanctuary of the church at the corner of County and School Streets in downtown New Bedford.

The Festival of Lights is a dramatic service unique to Grace Church, having been presented there for decades. The acolytes of the parish, ages 9 to 18, lead the service, re-enacting the coming of the Wise Men with gifts — gold, frankincense, and myrrh — to the Christ child.

Then, following a reading from the Gospel of Matthew in which Jesus calls his 12 disciples, 12 acolytes begin lighting candles throughout the church, literally disseminating the "light of Christ," first to the congregation, and then leading the recessional of all present outside to the world.

The Choir of Grace Church, under the direction of Brian Roderick, will also sing several anthems.

Epiphany, from the Greek, means "manifesting," and the Festival of Lights is one of Grace Church's ways of manifesting or bringing Christ and the light of his love to the world around us.

In past years, people from many churches and denominations in the greater New Bedford area have come to the service and helped us to spread Christ's love symbolically to New Bedford and the wider world in this unique and beautiful way. All of the community is cordially invited to join them again.

cordially invite people living in the New Bedford area to join them for their monthly Taize service of silence, simple chant, meditation, and quiet prayer and reflection. The service will be held in the main sanctuary of the church on Wednesday, January 12, 2005 at 8:00 pm and will last 30-45 minutes. The church is located at the corner of County and School Streets in downtown New Bedford.

This month, the prayers offered will be for unity among all Christians in recognition of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity, as well as for the victims and survivors of the earthquakes and tsunami in South Asia and India.

Known as Taize because the service originated in the French monastic community of Taize, this is an opportunity in the middle of the week to slow down, reconnect with God, and refocus on what is most important to people in their lives.

For more information about the service, you may call the church at 508-993-0547 or visit its web site: www.gracechurchnb.org. For more information on the Taize service and the community in which it originated, go to www.taize.fr.

- A Bruins hockey puck signed by Sergei Sammonoff; and
- A Revolution yearbook signed by two members of the team.

These items will be raffled off at the Mattapoisett Lions Club Dinner on January 21, 2005 at the Mattapoisett Congregational Church. Although you do not have to be there to win, the show should be a great one with the ORR Jazz Band and Combo on hand to display there award-winning talents. Tickets will be at various stores in the tri-town region and are available right now at Seaport Village Ice Cream and Coffee Shop on Route 6. You may also call director Stan Ellis at 508-758-9226 to get tickets. Tickets are one for $3, two for $5, or five for $10.

Women Veterans Program

The Veterans Office for Mattapoisett and Rochester received correspondence from the VA Boston Health Care System in regards to a new Transitional Residence for Women located in Boston. The comprehensive treatment program targets the needs of women veterans by specializing in the treatment of PTSD, MST (military
